

WRP

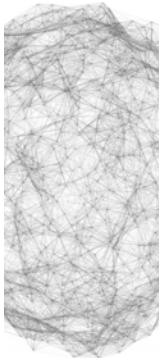

WRITING, RHETORIC, AND PUBLICATION

The English Department's newly launched minor and concentration in Writing, Rhetoric, and Publication was designed for students interested in intensive practice in writing and design, editing and publication. WRP students will have opportunity to gain experience doing:

- document design
- editing and publishing
- social media marketing
- grant writing
- writing and designing for the web
- sound, image, and video editing
- usability testing
- content management
- search engine optimization
- technical writing

By the end of the WRP program, students will develop the critical knowledge and practical experience necessary for being an effective writer in the 21st century.

WRP

WRITING, RHETORIC, AND PUBLICATION

Courses

- Introduction to Writing Studies
- Modern English Grammar
- Advanced Composition
- English Language: Grammar and History
- Theories of Teaching Writing
- Writing and Literacy
- Writing across Contexts
- Technical Writing
- Special Topics in Writing, Rhetoric, and Language
- Writing for the Web
- Rhetoric in a Digital Age
- Usability and Document Design
- The Literary Magazine, Publishing, and Editing
- Senior Seminar in Writing, Rhetoric, and Language

Programs

- Minor in Writing, Rhetoric, and Publication
- English Major with a concentration in Writing, Rhetoric, and Publication

blogs.cofc.edu/wrp

